MILITARY COMPANIES TO PARTICIPATE IN BATTLE

Pittsburg Brigade and Valley Organizations to "Fight it Out"

FOURTH OF JULY AFFAIR

Capt. Gustave Schaaf of Donora is Commander in Chief of Local Force

With crack companies from Pittsburg composing the visiting army, and four companies from this vicinity composing the local force, a sham battle will be fought at Eldora Park on July 4, which promises to be one of the best representations of a war engagement ever fought by Western Pennsylvania companies. Elaborate arrangements are being made for the affair. An engineer will survey the grounds and a regular military attack and defense is planned.

Capt Ostermeir, of Company H, of the Eighth regiment of the Boys Brigade of Pittsburg with probably 50 men and Col. Bope of Company G, with 50 or 60 men and possible another company will be on one side. The Charleroi Brigade with 40 members, the Monongahela Brigade with 20 men, the Belle Vernon Riflers with 35 men and the Brownsville Light Infantry with 35 men will be the local army.

Capt Ostermeir's company is a member of the Eighth regiment. The company holds the cup for a competitive drill at Baltimore, Md., where some of the finest companies of the United States took part. A West Point Major was the arbiter. The Pittsburg company made 173 out of 180 possible points. Col. Bope's company possesses a similar reputation.

Capt Gustave Schaaf of Donora, will be the commander in chief of the local force. Capt Schaaf was captain of Company A in the Philippines and Wednesday was division commander of the force at McKeesport that won a sham battle there. Capt Schaaf's lieutenant will be Capt E. Hartland of Company A, N. G. P.

The Charleroi Brigade and the Belle Vernon Riflers are working nightly preparing for the fray, which is scheduled to take place at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of the Fourth. The Charleroi Brigade is under command of Capt. R. Dale Joliffe, who was instrumental in arranging for the sham battle.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT W. & J. CLOSES

The One Hundred and Tenth year at Washington and Jefferson college at Washington came to a close Wednesday morning when 58 young men received their diplomas and the commencement exercises were held. Led by the president of the college, the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffitt, the graduates marched into the college gymnasium where the exercises were held. The auditorium was crowded to capacity and most careful attention was paid to eight commencement day speakers and to the president as he awarded the degrees and prizes.

Miss Mabel Rush of Washington, visited friends in Charleroi Wednesday afternoon.

Hiram Myers Dies at Home

Bentleyville Resident Was Oldest of Family of Seven Boys

Hiram Myers, about 76 years old, of Bentleyville died at his home Wednesday from complaints of old age. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Friday from the late residence and interment will be in the Pigeon Creek burying ground. The deceased is survived by five grown children. He was a brother of J. A. Myers, of Washington avenue, Charleroi. There were seven brothers of the family six of whom are still living. At the reunion of the Myers family held recently Hiram Myers was the oldest present.

MERCHANTS MUST CARE FOR GOODS

Pure Food Agent Gives Instructions on Matter

PROVISIONS OF THE LAW

Acting upon instructions from Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust, Pure Food Agent John Jenkins announced that with the advent of summer weather, every provision of the law relative for the preservation of food stuff and the cleanliness of environment where it is offered for sale, will be enforced to the letter and all merchants, butchers, and market stall keepers are warned that they must make speedy arrangements to comply with the statutes or suffer the penalties imposed.

The law provides that all animal or vegetable substance designed for human consumption must be kept in a way that will keep the substance from becoming contaminated. This requires the use of screens or a covering of some kind.

CHARGED WITH CHANGING CHECKS

Charged with changing coal checks, Pete Nicksi, of the Catsburg mine at Monongahela was arrested Wednesday by Constable Fred Sellman, upon information before Justice of the Peace Alderman John H. Wiper, by Ben Baronet. It is stated that similar offenses are being committed frequently and a determined effort will be made to break up the practice.

John Guggie and Caesar Bettino went to Pittsburg Wednesday evening to attend commencement exercises of Pittsburg College held at Lyceum Theatre. John Guggie, Jr., was among the graduates who received their diplomas.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS AT MEETING

Important action was taken by the school board at an adjourned meeting Wednesday evening, when it was decided to have two Tungsten lights placed in each school room of the four Charleroi schools. Last year the rooms were improperly equipped with artificial lights to be used in cases of emergency, and consequently considerable time was lost.

All members of the board with the exception of Secretary Ira L. Nicke-

LOCAL COUNCIL ENJOYS OUTING

Royal Arcanums Entertain at Eldora Park--Prizes Awarded in Contests

At the annual picnic of Charleroi Lodge No. 1240 Royal Arcanum held at Eldora Park, Wednesday a number of races were run. These with the dancing in the evening composed the main features.

The outing was scheduled for both afternoon and evening but there were few there in the afternoon. In the evening the events were pulled off. Robert Vetter was the star racer, winning prizes for both the hobble skirt and fat man's races. Tom Barger won a prize in the potato race and Mrs. O. Dorbitz carried off honors in the ladies' race.

A prize waltz was a feature. Willis Phillips and Miss Bertha Planton were considered the most expert waltzers and both were given umbrellas. Judges were Dr. G. H. Smith, C. W. Weltner, Ewing Todd, A. F. McGowan, and A. P. Stewart.

CONFIRMATION AT EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Bishop Whitehead Makes Visit to Charleroi Church--Makes Address

A large congregation was in attendance at the confirmation exercises at St. Mary's Episcopal church last evening. The church was filled and a large class, mostly adults was confirmed by the bishop of the diocese, Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, who gave a most timely address. This is the third class to be confirmed during the year and the second since January 1 Bishop Whitehead expressed himself as well pleased with the outlook in this parish, which under the pastorate of Rev. L. W. Shey, the rector, is making good progress.

Civil Service Examination

Fourth Class Postmaster to be Chosen for Dunlevy Office

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that on July 22, an examination will be held at Charleroi for the position of fourth class postmaster of Dunlevy, and for other vacancies which may occur at that office. Last year the compensation of the postmaster at Dunlevy was $218. W. E. McFall, the local civil service clerk will probably have charge of the examination and information regarding the postmaster-ship can be from him or from the postmaster at Dunlevy.

GOVERNOR TO VISIT CHARLEROI

State Executive Will be Home For Short Time

BUSY AT HARRISBURG

For the first time since he assumed his gubernatorial duties, Governor J. K. Tener will visit his former home in Charleroi tonight. He is spending the day in McKeesport and will probably arrive on the 6 o'clock train. How long he will remain is a question. Once or twice since he took up his official work at Harrisburg the Governor has been in Pittsburg, but only for visits of short duration, and not long enough to allow him to make a much desired visit to his home town.

Governor Tener will be eagerly greeted by his Charleroi friends. It is hoped he will be enabled to remain until after Sunday. During the past several days he has been busy with bills passed by the last Legislature.

WRECKS TROUSERS HELPING IN ARREST

After he was alleged to have struck Charles C. Lowe a stunning blow in the face Wednesday evening while the latter was ascending the steps of the hotel at Monongahela where he stays, John W. Sarver, Jr., put up such a desperate fight that Alderman A. R. Day who assisted Special Officer Robert Tidball in making the arrest had a pair of $10 trousers torn. Information was made before Day by Lowe and Sarver was held for court. In lieu of bail he was taken to Washington to jail.

Slackwater With Crew Returns to Headquarters

COMPLETE IMPORTANT JOB

Lock No. 1. of the Same Model as No. 5 Now is Course of Construction.

After having been laid up at Lock No. 5, at Brownsville where repairs on the lock were being made the United States Steamer Slackwater of which James T. Nutt is master, arrived at headquarters at North Charleroi Wednesday afternoon. This afternoon the steamer left for Lock No. 3 to do some repair work on the wicket valves and gates. Incidentally the lock may be pumped out to put in a new headwall.

At Lock No. 5 repairs were made to the movable or adjustable dam. The lock never worked perfectly since it was built, owing partly to the effects of high water and drift wood, as well as a slight mistake, it is said, in constructing a part of the lock. When the Slackwater returned it brought with it a flatladen with large timber to be used at Lock No. 1.

Work is going along rapidly at Lock No. 1, where the new concrete lock is being finished. An entire concrete dam is being built. It will be similar to Lock 5, at Brownsville which is the only kind in use in any of the rivers supervised by the government. Lock No. 1 like No. 5 will be automatic acting. One half of the lock had been constructed some time ago.

BILLS DISAPPROVED BY THE GOVERNOR

Governor Tener yesterday at Harrisburg disapproved the following:

Powell bill, preventing issuance of marriage licenses to persons suffering from transmissible disease, because it is too loosely drawn.

Alter bill to reimburse John E. Joos in sum of $3,400 for publishing Allegheny county mercantile appraisers' list in 1886. The legal right of the claim has not been clearly established, he says.

Three different bills increasing pay of election officers, Governor Tener not being satisfied that the increases are justified.

E. R. Cox, loan shark bill prohibiting chattel loans unless goods are actually delivered to the loaner. Such legislation the governor says is an unconstitutional and unwarranted rights.

ORIENTAL TEA PARTY TO BE A BIG FEATURE

The Oriental Tea Party, which the young ladies of St. Mary's Episcopal church will give Friday and Saturday evenings in the vacant store room on Fallowfield avenue next to the 5 and 10 cent store, promises to be a delightful affair. Young ladies in Japanese costume will serve refreshments, while a continuous program of music will be rendered. The room will be handsomely decorated with original Chinese posters brought by Mrs. L. W. Shey from China.

THE COMMON GOOD.

Perhaps one of the reasons why industrial and trade conditions are unsatisfactory and out of joint at the present time is that "the common good" has been neglected for individual and specific gain. The collectivism that has prevailed in industry and business generally has been too narrow and restricted in its operation, and the reaction that is inevitable has checked consumption, which in turn checks production, closing mills, mines, and factories all along the line and throwing thousands of workmen out of employment.

Corporate and trade agreements that maintain prices at a high level, labor organizations that have forced advanced wages in certain productive industries, and all who individually or collectively do not consider the community as whole or the country at large in their business and trade relations, must inevitably face trouble sooner or later. Conditions and advantages for the few gained at the expense of the many are like curses and chickens; they come home to roost. The corporation or labor organization which arbitrarily forces higher prices and wages on the public invariably suffer a reduction in the course of time by having their time reduced when the public refuses to buy.

This is best illustrated by the employees of most of the big railroad systems which a year ago forced big advances in wages. This was granted in most cases by the companies, who in turn expected to reimburse the extra expenditure by advancing freight rates. Had they done this, the cost of living, which at that time was creating a big furore, would have been materially advanced to all consumers. The railroads were prohibited from advancing freight rates by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the result has been that they have recouped expenditures to meet their extra pay rolls in a way that has shut down mills and mines over the whole country. They have refrained from placing orders for rails and equipment and this has shut down the rolling mills and foundries and car building shops which are the greatest coal and coke consumers of the country.

It is the public—the people—not in the big centers of population where trade and industrial activity are at their height, but the unattached millions on the farms, at the cross roads in the villages and hamlets, who are the final arbiters. When these millions feel the pinch to the extent that they must retrench, the big corporations and the industrial armies are at their mercy. Neglect and contempt of the common good brings a retribution as inevitable and remorseless as the flight of time.

WHY A SMALL INDUSTRY.

There's a lot of glib talk prevalent about the necessity of small industries for the Pittsburgh district. This sounds well theoretically, when a multitude of small concerns employ a multitude of work people, pay them good wages and dispose of the products they make at profitable rates, and all the work people have to do is to spend their wages in the town they live in, and this makes a good town. It's as easy as rolling off a log.

But is it? Those who are in the "small industry" business usually have a different tale to tell. And this is a plaint of lack of appreciation and co-operation on the part of the community, small home patronage and discouraging conditions all around. Charleroi as well as every other town, Pittsburgh included, has some small industries now that might with profit to the community be looked after by town planning societies before any more are induced to get into the hot water of trying to eke out an existence. One of the first questions to be digested and understood before the "small industry" racket is worked much further is, "Why a small industry?" Those who are in the business can usually tell why.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

It is natural for women to stand by women when women are accused of any wrong. In addition they expect the defense of the male sex.

In some cases they are talking of introducing in the High school curriculum the study of cooking for girls. Mamma's kitchen would be an excellent place for the future fashion leaders to learn bread, pie-making and the like.

Chicago people want to build a dirigible on the order of Count Zeppelin's manufacture. Chicago is airy enough without trying to fly.

If more men would try being husbands instead of ex-bachelors after they get married, maybe we wouldn't have any need of Reno.

A town is more proud of itself nowadays when it produces a big league player than if it produced a President.

An honorable discharge from a big league team would be the same thing as if "Honius" Wagner should ask for and get his papers now.

An exchange is authority for the statement that "a wedding ring squares many a thing." Admitting the same, it is still noticeable that it causes a big lot of trouble.

Ex-dictator Diaz of Mexico is sick particularly of Mexican people.

When one sees a girl with beautiful white hands, you often wonder if her mother ever gets time to have hers manicured.

Lots of people want to learn how to run an automobile. After they learn they will want to mortgage their homes to get a machine.

Folks say automobiles are going to continue coming down in price. If that's the case, it seems to us it would be wisdom to wait until they can be secured for nothing, before you buy one.

That thing called luck is prominent in baseball games and some times in politics.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Why are so many people in need of aid at all times?" asked a Charleroi man, who takes a great interest in charitable and humane work. "It seems to make no difference what kind of times prevail, there are always hard luck people, who are out of work, and who are in destitution and need. Take the past year. Normally times have been at normal, but actually thousands of people are having the hardest kind of a struggle. I know this from my own personal observation and investigation, as well as from the reports in the newspapers from the different charitable societies. I notice that in Pittsburgh the Society for the Improvement of the Poor assisted 2,500 families last year, or about 9,000 people. This was only temporary and voluntary aid, remember, help rendered to the worthy in distress which in most cases had been investigated. When one thinks of the available land everywhere which might be made to produce, and which could easily maintain all the unemployed in comfort, it is more than ever apparent that more people must till the soil, which is the basis of all food and wealth."

"Speaking of fires reminds me of an experience I had when I was a volunteer fireman in the early days of Charleroi," said R. A. Roberts, inspector at the government yards at North Charleroi.

"The fire occurred late in the evening. It was at the Collins paint store on Fallowfield avenue, near Sixth street. Old timers remember it well. I had been at a meeting that evening and had on a brand new $35 suit of clothes which I had not worn before. At that time I held an office in the Charleroi fire department and at the first alarm I hastened to the scene. The fire was a bad one. Another member of the department and I with a reel of hose went in the back. In the meantime there was a reel of hose taken in the front way. The room was dense with smoke, and we could scarcely breathe much less see. Pushing our way through the gloom we had little chance to avoid obstacles. Such was also the case with the men entering from the front of the building.

"On the floor was a huge pan of varnish. We could barely distinguish its outlines at our feet when we approached and did not attempt to go any farther. But alas for new clothes and such. The hose being brought in from the other side caught on that pan of varnish and pulled it up over my companion and I. Doused with varnish from head to foot we let the hose drop instantly and began clawing at our eyes and face to get the nasty, sticky stuff away. We nearly suffocated with the varnish and the smoke. The hose was circling and writhing like a snake, water flying in every direction. Finally I managed to get away from the burning building. Going home I pulled off my outer clothing and with water as hot as I could bear, got in the bath tub. The rest of the night I spent getting divorced from that varnish, and then did a poor job of it.

"My new suit was ruined. In two or three days after the varnish had dried, I could stand up my trousers in the center of the floor and use them for a coat hanger. They were as stiff as a board. I went to just one fire after that, but I was careful not to get into more predicaments of the kind."

Another New Magazine.

The Monthly Magazine Section which has been going free with the Pittsburgh Sunday Dispatch on the second Sunday of each month has proved such a success that on Sunday June 25, another magazine, a sort of companion piece, will be started by The Dispatch. It will be called the Family Magazine Section, and will be published on the fourth Sunday of every month. This will give Dispatch readers two magazines a month—not the flimsy weekly affairs so prevalent, but genuine monthly magazines, filled with the best literature that brains and money can produce.

Richard Harding Davis, Martha McCullough Williams and such lights will be contributors to the first number of the Family Magazine Section. A competition department, open to all readers, will be one of the attractions of the new publication sure to create a sensation. Remember, these two magazines a month (one on the second Sunday and other the fourth Sunday) go absolutely free with The Sunday Dispatch, which entirely aside from the magazines is the biggest, best and brightest Sunday newspaper published. A LETTER PRESS.

It Was a Great Bargain, but He Knew It Too Late.

One of the smokers had been exhibiting a diamond pin which he had purchased of a hard up traveler and made at least a hundred dollars on when the gray haired man heaved a sigh and remarked:

"As for me, I never had but one real bargain offered me, and I was too enough not to take that."

"Something in the way of jewelry?" was asked.

"No; it was a letter press."

"But I don't see how much of a bargain could be offered in that."

"No? Well, I will tell you. I thought I was in love and was writing the girl two letters a day. Six months later, when I knew that I wasn't in love with her, I busted up things, and she sued me for breach of promise."

"But you had been careful in your letters not to pledge yourself."

"I told my lawyer that she couldn't exhibit one single loving sentence in any of my letters—that is, an 'I' having connection with matrimony."

"Yes."

"But when the suit came to trial she exhibited over forty letters in which I said that I should die if she turned me down, and the jury awarded her $2,500 for her broken heart. Yes, sir, and I could have bought that letter press for $7 and had copies of my letters as fast as written and knew what I was up against at the end. Great bargain, gents—great bargain, and yet I turned it down"—Baltimore American.

A Model.

Mr. Jones came home at an unseemly hour the other night and was surprised to see Mrs. Jones sitting up for him below stairs, with no other light than that of the gas lamp, which faced the door, to keep her company.

"M-M-Marie," he said huskily, "you shouldn't sit up late when I'm out on business."

As Mrs. Jones did not answer him, he continued in an alarmed voice:

"Shorry, m'dear, but it's last time—tell you I'm sorry. Won't speak to me?"

At this moment Mrs. Jones called from above stairs:

"Mr. Jones, who are you talking to at this hour of the night?"

"Thash what I'd like to know m-m-myself," stammered Jones.

Mrs. Jones hastened downstairs, lamp in hand. When she saw the situation she laughed in spite of being very angry.

"The model," she said—"the model I bought today to fit my dresses."

"The thash so," said Jones tipsily.

"Model woman—didn't talk back—make some fellow good wife."

LUTHERANS BEAT WASHINGTON AVE. PRESBYTERIANS

Take Advantage of Errors to
Roll Up Big Score on
Mitchell's Followers

Piling up as many errors as the Lutherans did scores, the Washington Avenue Presbyterian team was treated to a severe beating Wednesday evening, when they met the Lutherans in what was scheduled to be a good exhibition. The Lutherans negotiated and were presented with scores until in their column 11 showed. All the Washington Avenues could get was four.

The first and fourth innings were not bad, but the others—may the saints preserve us. In the second the Lutherans got around twice on two errors a single and a double. The following session five errors, two singles, three pilfered bases and two bases on balls meant four runs. Three runs came in in the fifth. A base on balls a homer and a single with three errors to boot were responsible for the same. Two more men finished the circuit in the sixth on three hits, one a three baser, a couple of stolen bases and an error.

The Washington Avenues scored three in the fifth inning when they gathered three singles, and two bases on balls. They added one in the final session on two hits, and a stolen base.

Monster 150 Feet Long Captured

A Specimen Rarely Seen in the United States, the Monster "Bartholomaeus Latus" or Fish Tape Worm Now Is on Exhibition at the Quaker Doctor's; His Quaker Herbs removed it from Mr. Tony Nhis, Employed at American Tin Plate Mills in Monessen.

During the Quaker Doctor's shows and lectures here he spoke of the monster tape worms that are found in people of northern Europe that frequently reach the enormous length of 300 feet; some of his hearers naturally scoffed at the idea, claiming that as a man has only 30 feet of bowels it would be impossible for a monster of this size to inhabit the intestines; many such parasites have been found however, particularly after the patient had died, when the post mortem was made on the body to learn the cause of the death; as is now well known here the Quaker Doctors herbs brought many tape worms from Charleroi people and were put on exhibition during his lectures; it however remained for Monessen to furnish the sensation and the largest and only specimen that the Quaker Doctor has ever seen in this country namely, one of the monsters spoken of above. It is full 150 feet long and the most remarkable part of this wonderful work is, that Mr. Nhis did not lose a meal, was not sick and lost no time from his work; he says one dose of the Quaker Doctor's herbs is all he took and in a few hours was relieved of the monster that for years had at different times caused him untold agony; the Quaker Doctor's office on McKean avenue is now crowded daily with patients waiting to see him for examination and advice; many of these of course are chronic cases for which there is no permanent cure and they are told so; while others are quickly informed that there is help and a cure for them by following his instructions.

BASEBALL BINGLES

Prof. I. T. Daniel umpired behind the plate again Wednesday night. With the league breast protector he makes a good preserver of the baseball peace.

Eddie Butz was on second for the Lutherans Wednesday evening, and covered the bag efficiently.

Friend Joe Mason retired to the outfield—clear to right—to give the youngsters a chance to show their ability in the infield.

The chief prerogative of the Washington Avenues seemed to be the making of errors.

The Lutherans are tied with the Episcopalians for first position. And while remarking is good, it might be remarked that the Catholics and Baptists are not so far behind.

Joe Steck was back in the game and featured his presence by getting three scores and two hits. He's some short-stop.

Wertz lost one ball over the fence, in the first inning through a foul. Then he struck out.

Stroud wasn't hit so hard but oh, the work of his teammates.

Winnie Wertz and Heaver Miller were the only Lutherans to get through the game without a hit.

The Washington Avenues had rather a patched up aggregation. Possibly by tonight they will put up a real article of baseball.

Fleming the new catcher of the Lutherans, looks rather classy.

Yonno De Prune de Riddle is the name of a lad who comes out regular with the Baptists merely to coach. At least that's a part of his cognomen and he may have more hidden away. He has a voice that sounds like a young fog-horn.

MILITARY COMPANIES TO PARTICIPATE IN BATTLE

Pittsburg Brigade and Valley Organizations to "Fight it Out"

FOURTH OF JULY AFFAIR

Capt. Gustave Schaaf of Donora is Commander in Chief of Local Force

With crack companies from Pittsburg composing the visiting army, and four companies from this vicinity composing the local force, a sham battle will be fought at Eldora Park on July 4, which promises to be one of the best representations of a war engagement ever fought by Western Pennsylvania companies. Elaborate arrangements are being made for the affair. An engineer will survey the grounds and a regular military attack and defense is planned.

Capt Ostermeier, of Company H, of the Eighth regiment of the Boys Brigade of Pittsburg with probably 50 men and Col. Bope of Company G, with 50 or 60 men and possible another company will be on one side. The Charleroi Brigade with 40 members, the Monongahela Brigade with 20 men, the Belle Vernon Riflers with 35 men and the Brownsville Light Infantry with 35 men will be the local army.

Capt Ostermeier's company is a member of the Eighth regiment. The company holds the cup for a competitive drill at Baltimore, Md., where some of the finest companies of the United States took part. A West Point Major was the arbiter. The Pittsburg company made 173 out of 180 possible points. Col. Bope's company possesses a similar reputation.

Capt Gustave Schaaf of Donora, will be the commander in chief of the local force. Capt Schaaf was captain of Company A in the Philippines and Wednesday was division commander of the force at McKeesport that won a sham battle there. Capt Schaaf's lieutenant will be Capt E. Hartland of Company A, N. G. P.

The Charleroi Brigade and the Belle Vernon Riflers are working nightly preparing for the fray, which is scheduled to take place at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of the Fourth. The Charleroi Brigade is under command of Capt. R. Dale Joliffe, who was instrumental in arranging for the sham battle.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT W. & J. CLOSES

The One Hundred and Tenth year at Washington and Jefferson college at Washington came to a close Wednesday morning when 58 young men received their diplomas and the commencement exercises were held. Led by the president of the college, the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffitt, the graduates marched into the college gymnasium where the exercises were held. The auditorium was crowded to capacity and most careful attention was paid to eight commencement days speakers and to the president as he awarded the degrees and prizes.

Miss Mabel Rush of Washington, visited friends in Charleroi Wednesday afternoon.

Hiram Myers Dies at Home

Bentleyville Resident Was Oldest of Family of Seven Boys

Hiram Myers, about 76 years old, of Bentleyville died at his home Wednesday from complaints of old age. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Friday from the late residence and interment will be in the Pigeon Creek burying ground. The deceased is survived by five grown children. He was a brother of J. A. Myers, of Washington avenue, Charleroi. There were seven brothers of the family six of whom are still living. At the reunion of the Myers family held recently Hiram Myers was the oldest present.

PROVISIONS OF THE LAW

Acting upon instructions from Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust, Pure Food Agent John Jenkins announced that with the advent of summer weather, every provision of the law relative to the preservation of food stuff and the cleanliness of environment where it is offered for sale, will be enforced to the letter and all merchants, butchers, and market stall keepers are warned that they must make speedy arrangements to comply with the statutes or suffer the penalties imposed.

The law provides that all animal or vegetable substance designed for human consumption must be kept in a way that will keep the substance from becoming contaminated. This requires the use of screens or a covering of some kind.

CHARGED WITH CHANGING CHECKS

Charged with changing coal checks, Pete Nicksi, of the Catsburg mine at Monongahela was arrested Wednesday by Constable Fred Sellman, upon information before Justice of the Peace by the president of the college, the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffitt, by Ben Baronet. It is stated that similar offenses are being committed frequently and a determined effort will be made to break up the practice.

John Guggie and Caesar Bettino went to Pittsburg Wednesday evening to attend commencement exercises of Pittsburg College held at Lyceum Theatre. John Guggie, Jr., was among the graduates who received their diplomas.

LIGHTS TO BE PLACED IN EVERY SCHOOL ROOM

School Directors to Use Precaution In Order to Prevent Loss of Time the Coming Term

IMPORTANT BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS AT MEETING

Important action was taken by the school board at an adjourned meeting Wednesday evening, when it was decided to have two Tungsten lights placed in each school room of the four Charleroi schools. Last year the rooms were improperly equipped with artificial lights to be used in cases of emergency, and consequently considerable time was lost. All members of the board with the exception of Secretary Ira L. Nickerson were present. The president and secretary were instructed to sign the application of Miss Florence Crill, a teacher, for a Normal diploma. A. W. Stech was elected truant officer. Gilbert Uptegraft was last year's incumbent. It was decided to postpone the opening or bids for supplies until the first Monday in July. At that time bidders will probably attend the meeting.

CLASSES TO MEET

Arrangements Being Made for Public Meeting

EVERYBODY IS INVITED

There will be a union meeting of all the churches and adult members of the Sunday Schools of the Charleroi District under the auspices of the Federated Bible Classes on Sunday, July 9 at 3 p. m. in the M. E. church. The chief address will be by Rev. V. G. Hostetter, of the Christian church and other speakers of prominence will also take part. The singing will under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel.

It is hoped that all the church choirs will meet at the call of Prof. Daniel for general rehearsals which will be some time next week. The Orchestra of the M. E. church is also invited to this rehearsal.

This will be an open meeting and everybody is earnestly invited to be present. The Federated Bible Classes are anxious to make this one of the largest and most interesting meetings that there has been in Charleroi for a long time.

Royal Arcanums Entertain at Eldora Park--Prizes Awarded in Contests

At the annual picnic of Charleroi Lodge No. 1240 Royal Arcanum held at Eldora Park, Wednesday a number of races were run. These with the dancing in the evening composed the main features.

The outing was scheduled for both afternoon and evening but there were few there in the afternoon. In the evening the events were pulled off. Robert Vetter was the star racer, winning prizes for both the hobble skirt and fat man's races. Tom Barger won a prize in the potato race and Mrs. O. Dorbitz carried off honors in the ladies' race.

A prize waltz was a feature. Willis Phillips and Miss Bertha Planton were considered the most expert waltzers and both were given umbrellas. Judges were Dr. G. H. Smith, C. W. Weltner, Ewing Todd, A. F. McGowan, and A. P. Stewart.

CONFIRMATION AT EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Bishop Whitehead Makes Visit to Charleroi Church--Makes Address

A large congregation was in attendance at the confirmation exercises at St. Mary's Episcopal church last evening. The church was filled and a large class, mostly adults was confirmed by the bishop of the diocese, Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, who gave a most timely address. This is the third class to be confirmed during the year and the second since January 1 Bishop Whitehead expressed himself as well pleased with the outlook in this parish, which under the pastorate of Rev. L. W. Shey, the rector, is making good progress.

McFall, the local civil service clerk will probably have charge of the examination and information regarding the postmaster-ship can be from him or from the postmaster at Dunlevy.

GOVERNOR TO VISIT CHARLEROI

State Executive Will be Home For Short Time

BUSY AT HARRISBURG

For the first time since he assumed his gubernatorial duties, Governor J. K. Tener will visit his former home in Charleroi tonight. He is spending the day in McKeesport and will probably arrive on the 6 o'clock train. How long he will remain is a question. Once or twice since he took up his official work at Harrisburg the Governor has been in Pittsburg, but only for visits of short duration, and not long enough to allow him to make a much desired visit to his home town.

Governor Tener will be eagerly greeted by his Charleroi friends. It is hoped he will be enabled to remain until after Sunday. During the past several days he has been busy with bills passed by the last Legislature.

WRECKS TROUSERS HELPING IN ARREST

After he was alleged to have struck Charles C. Lowe a stunning blow in the face Wednesday evening while the latter was ascending the steps of the hotel at Monongahela where he stays, John W. Sarver, Jr., put up such a desperate fight that Alderman A. R. Day who assisted Special Officer Robert Tidball in making the arrest had a pair of $10 trousers torn. Information was made before Day by Lowe and Sarver was held for court. In lieu of bail he was taken to Washington to jail.

Slackwater With Crew Returns to Headquarters

COMPLETE IMPORTANT JOB

Lock No. 1. of the Same Model as No. 5 Now is Course of Construction

After having been laid up at Lock No. 5, at Brownsville where repairs on the lock were being made the United States Steamer Slackwater of which James T. Nutt is master, arrived at headquarters at North Charleroi Wednesday afternoon. This afternoon the steamer left for Lock No. 2 to do some repair work on the wicket valves and gates. Incidentally the lock may be pumped out to put in a new headwall.

At Lock No. 5 repairs were made to the movable or adjustable dam. The lock never worked perfectly since it was built, owing partly to the effects of high water and drift wood, as well as a slight mistake, it is said, in constructing a part of the lock. When the Slackwater returned it brought with it a flatladen with large timber to be used at Lock No. 1.

Work is going along rapidly at Lock No. 1, where the new concrete lock is being finished. An entire concrete dam is being built. It will be similar to Lock 5, at Brownsville which is the only kind in use in any of the rivers supervised by the government. Lock No. 1 like No. 5 will be automatic acting. One half of the lock had been constructed some time ago.

BILLS DISAPPROVED BY THE GOVERNOR

Governor Tener yesterday at Harrisburg disapproved the following:

Powell bill, preventing issuance of marriage licenses to persons suffering from transmissible disease, because it is too loosely drawn.

Alter bill to reimburse John E. Joos in sum of $3,400 for publishing Allegheny county mercantile appraisers list in 1886. The legal right of the claim has not been clearly established, he says.

Three different bills increasing pay of election officers, Governor Tener not being satisfied that the increases are justified.

E. R. Cox, loan shark bill prohibiting chattel loans unless goods are actually delivered to the lender. Such legislation the governor says is an unconstitutional and unwarranted rights.

ORIENTAL TEA PARTY TO BE A BIG FEATURE

The Oriental Tea Party, which the young ladies of St. Mary's Episcopal church will give Friday and Saturday evenings in the vacant store room on Fallowfield avenue next to the 5 and 10 cent store, promises to be a delightful affair. Young ladies in Japanese costume will serve refreshments, while a continuous program of music will be rendered. The room will be handsomely decorated with original Chinese posters brought by Mrs. L. W. Shey from China.

June 22 in American History.

1884—Captain W. S. Schley's relief party reached Cape Sabine and rescued Lieutenant A. W. Greely and six others, only survivors of the Greely polar expedition to Lady Franklin bay.
1892—General Shafter's corps made the first landing on Cuban soil at Daiquiri.
1910—Senate accepted house postal savings bank bill, sending it to President Taft to sign.

THE COMMON GOOD.

Perhaps one of the reasons why industrial and trade conditions are unsatisfactory and out of joint at the present time is that "the common good" has been neglected for individual and specific gain. The collectivism that has prevailed in industry and business generally has been too narrow and restricted in its operation, and the reaction that is inevitable has checked consumption, which in turn checks production, closing mills, mines, and factories all along the line and throwing thousands of workmen out of employment.

Corporate and trade agreements that maintain prices at a high level, labor organizations that have forced advanced wages in certain productive industries, and all who individually or collectively do not consider the community as whole or the country at large in their business and trade relations, must inevitably face trouble sooner or later. Conditions and advantages for the few gained at the expense of the many are like curses and chickens; they come home to roost. The corporation or labor organization which arbitrarily force higher prices and wages on the public invariably suffer a reduction in the course of time by having their time reduced when the public refuses to buy.

This is best illustrated by the employees of most of the big railroad systems which a year ago forced big advances in wages. This was granted in most cases by the companies, who in turn expected to reimburse the extra expenditure by advancing freight rates. Had they done this, the cost of living, which at that time was creating a big furore, would have been materially advanced to all consumers. The railroads were prohibited from advancing freight rates by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the result has been that they have recouped expenditures to meet their extra pay rolls in a way that has shut down mills and mines over the whole country. They have refrained from placing orders for rails and equipment and this has shut down the rolling mills and foundries and car building shops which are the greatest coal and coke consumers of the country.

It is the public—the people—not in the big centers of population where trade and industrial activity are at their height, but the unattached millions on the farms, at the cross roads in the villages and hamlets, who are the final arbiters. When these millions feel the pinch to the extent that they must retrench, the big corporations, and the industrial armies are at their mercy. Neglect and contempt of the common-good brings a retribution as inevitable and remorseless as the flight of time.

WHY A SMALL INDUSTRY.

There's a lot of glib talk prevalent about the necessity of small industries for the Pittsburgh district. This sounds well theoretically, when a multitude of small concern employ a multitude of work people, pay them good wages and dispose of the products they make at profitable rates, and all the work people have to do is to spend their wages in the town they live in, and this makes a good town. It's as easy as rolling off a log.

But is it? Those who are in the "small industry" business usually have a different tale to tell. And this is a plaint of lack of appreciation and co-operation on the part of the community, small home patronage and discouraging conditions all around. Charleroi as well as every other town, Pittsburgh included, has some small industries now that might with profit to the community be looked after by town planning societies before any more are induced to get into the hot water of trying to eke out an existence. One of the first questions to be digested and understood before the "small industry" racket is worked much further is, "Why a small industry?" Those who are in the business can usually tell why.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

It is natural for women to stand by women when women are accused of any wrong. In addition they expect the defense of the male sex.

In some cases they are talking of introducing in the High school curriculum the study of cooking for girls. Mamma's kitchen would be an excellent place for the future fashion leaders to learn bread, pie-making and the like.

Chicago people want to build a dirigible on the order of Count Zeppelin's manufacture. Chicago is airy enough without trying to fly.

If more men would try being husbands instead of ex-bachelors after they get married, maybe we wouldn't have any need of Reno.

A town is more proud of itself nowadays when it produces a big league player than if it produced a President.

An honorable discharge from a big league team would be the same thing as if "Honus" Wagner should ask for and get his papers now.

An exchange is authority for the statement that "a wedding ring squares many a thing." Admitting the same, it is still noticeable that it causes a big lot of trouble.

Ex-dictator Diaz of Mexico is sick particularly of Mexican people.

When one sees a girl with beautiful white hands, you often wonder if her mother ever gets time to have hers manicured.

Lots of people want to learn how to run an automobile. After they learn they will want to mortgage their homes to get a machine.

Folks say automobiles are going to continue coming down in price. If that's the case, it seems to us it would be wisdom to wait until they can be secured for nothing, before you buy one.

That thing called luck is prominent in baseball games and some times in politics.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Why are so many people in need of aid at all times?" asked a Charleroi man, who takes a great interest in charitable and humane work. "It seems to make no difference what kind of times prevail, there are always hard luck people, who are out of work, and who are in destitution and need. Take the past year. Normally times have been at normal, but actually thousands of people are having the hardest kind of a struggle. I know this from my own personal observation and investigation, as well as from the reports in the newspapers from the different charitable societies. I notice that in Pittsburgh the Society for the Improvement of the Poor assisted 2,500 families last year, or about 9,000 people. This was only temporary and voluntary aid, remember, help rendered to the worthy in distress which in most cases had been investigated. When one thinks of the available land everywhere which might be made to produce, and which could easily maintain all the unemployed in comfort, it is more than ever apparent that more people must till the soil, which is the basis of all food and wealth."

"Speaking of fires reminds me of an experience I had when I was a volunteer fireman in the early days of Charleroi," said R. A. Roberts, inspector at the government yards at North Charleroi.

"The fire occurred late in the evening. It was at the Collins paint store on Fallowfield avenue, near Sixth street. Old timers remember it well. I had been at a meeting that evening and had on a brand new $35 suit of clothes which I had not worn before. At that time I held an office in the Charleroi fire department and at the first alarm I hastened to the scene. The fire was a bad one. Another member of the department and I with a reel of hose went in the back. In the meantime there was a reel of hose taken in the front way. The room was dense with smoke, and we could scarcely breathe much less see. Pushing our way through the gloom we had little chance to avoid obstacles. Such was also the case with the men entering from the front of the building.

"On the floor was a huge pan of varnish. We could barely distinguish its outlines at our feet when we approached and did not attempt to go any farther. But alas for new clothes and such. The hose being brought in from the other side caught on that pan of varnish and pulled it up over my companion and I. Doused with varnish from head to foot we let the hose drop instantly and began clawing at our eyes and face to get the nasty, sticky stuff away. We nearly suffocated with the varnish and the smoke. The hose was circling and writhing like a snake, water flying in every direction. Finally I managed to get away from the burning building. Going home I pulled off my outer clothing and with water as hot as I could bear, got in the bath tub. The rest of the night I spent getting divorced from that varnish, and then did a poor job of it.

"My new suit was ruined. In two or three days after the varnish had dried, I could stand up my trousers in the center of the floor and use them for a coat hanger. They were as stiff as a board. I went to just one fire after that, but I was careful not to get into more predicaments of the kind."

Another New Magazine.

The Monthly Magazine Section which has been going free with the Pittsburgh Sunday Dispatch on the second Sunday of each month has proved such a success that on Sunday June 25, another magazine, a sort of companion piece, will be started by The Dispatch. It will be called the Family Magazine Section, and will be published on the fourth Sunday of every month. This will give Dispatch readers two magazines a month—not the flimsy weekly affairs so prevalent, but genuine monthly magazines, filled with the best literature that brains and money can produce. Richard Harding Davis, Martha McCullough Williams and such lights will be contributors to the first number of the Family Magazine Section. A competition department, open to all readers, will be one of the attractions of the new publication sure to create a sensation. Remember, these two magazines a month (one on the second Sunday and other the fourth Sunday) go absolutely free with The Sunday Dispatch, which, entirely aside from the magazines is the biggest, best and brightest Sunday newspaper published. If you are not already a subscriber, order at once from your news agent and get a free copy of the Family Magazine with

A LETTER PRESS.

It Was a Great Bargain, but He Knew It Too Late.

One of the smokers had been exhibiting a diamond pin which he had purchased of a hard up traveler and made at least a hundred dollars on when the gray haired man heaved a sigh and remarked:

"As for me, I never had but one real bargain offered me, and I was fool enough not to take that."

"Something in the way of jewelry?" was asked.

"No; it was a letter press."

"But I don't see how much of a bargain could be offered in that."

"No? Well, I will tell you. I thought I was in love and was writing the girl two letters a day. Six months later, when I knew that I wasn't to love with her, I busted up things, and she sued me for breach of promise."

"But you had been careful in your letters not to pledge yourself."

"I told my lawyer that she couldn't exhibit one single loving sentence in any of my letters—that is, all, having connection with matrimony."

"Yes."

"But when the suit came to trial she exhibited over forty letters in which I said that I should die if she turned me down, and the jury awarded her $2,500 for her broken heart. Yes, sir, and I could have bought that letter press for $7 and had copies of my letters as fast as written and knew what I was up against at the end. Great bargain, gents—great bargain, and yet I turned it down."—Baltimore American.

A Model.

Mr. Jones came home at an unseemly hour the other night and was surprised to see Mrs. Jones sitting up for him below stairs, with no other light than that of the gas lamp, which faced the door, to keep her company.

"M-M-Marie," he said huskily, "y-you shouldn't sit up so late when I'm out on business."

As Mrs. Jones did not answer him, he continued in an alarmed voice:

"Shorry, m'dear, but it's last time—tell you I'm sorry. Won't speak to me?"

At this moment Mrs. Jones called from above stairs:

"Mr. Jones, who are you talking to at this hour of the night?"

"Thash what I'd like to know m-m-myself," stammered Jones.

Mrs. Jones hastened downstairs, lamp in hand. When she saw the situation she laughed in spite of being

"IT'S THE MODEL," SHE SAID.

"It's the model," she said—"the model I bought today to fit my dresses."

"Yes, thash so," said Jones tipsily. "Model woman—didn't talk back—make some fellow good wife."

A Very Large Sale.

There was once in Cripple Creek an odd character named Burns. He was an odd person who always, no matter what his work, wore what used to be called a "Prince Albert." He struck a rich vein of ore and named that the Prince Albert. Being of a generous and convivial disposition, this lucky fellow was, of course, surrounded by many self-seeking friends. When he and they were in their cups some of them, with an eye to the main chance, managed to wheedle out of Burns one or another of a deed of a share in his mine. With royal prodigality he scattered deeds about among his retainers and camp followers until finally something had to be done, and the case was taken into court. One of the lawyers had Burns on the stand. "Now, Mr. Burns," said the lawyer, "will you please tell the court how you can explain your conduct. The evidence shows that you have deeded away twenty-nine twenty-fourths of your mine. What have you to say to that?" "Well, sir," replied the witness, "you must remember, sir, that the Prince Albert is a very large mine."

Her Correction.

Two young women were talking over their restaurant luncheon the other day about the quality of a certain prima donna's voice.

"Oh, she can sing," cried one of them enthusiastically. "She certainly can sing. Music like that would coax Apollo from his lyre."

The other girl flushed and looked troubled. After a slight pause she spoke in gentle reproach.

"I don't want to correct you, dear," she said. "But don't you think that word is usually pronounced 'fair'? It is spelled f-a-i-r, you know."—Philadelphia Ledger.

DIDN'T WASTE WORDS.

The Stoical Mountaineer Simply Answered the Question.

"For stoical indifference and taciturnity," said a young man from Knoxville, Tenn., who was visiting in Louisville a few days ago, "I never saw any one that could equal the Kentucky mountaineer."

"Two years ago I was camping during the summer with a party of young men and women in the mountains. During our stay there we became acquainted with an old mountaineer whom we called Sam. He always referred to his wife as Maria, and we fell into the same habit."

"Last year we returned to the same place to camp. As we were going up the mountain path on our first day out we met Sam walking along apparently in a deep study."

"Hello, Sam!" we called. "Where's Maria?"

"She's comin' back there," he said, directing his thumb backward over his shoulder.

"We went on up the mountain path and a short distance farther came upon a party of mountaineers transporting a dead body in a rickety wagon. It was a funeral party. Imagine our surprise when we were informed that the deceased was Maria. Sam had not thought it worth his pains to inform us that Maria was dead when he started she was 'comin' back there.'—Louisville Times.

THE ENGAGEMENT RING.

Advice the Jeweler Gave the Young Man Who Was Investing.

"Some of these jewelers are an accommodating lot," remarked the young man in the light suit. "I went in the other day to buy a diamond ring."

"For a lady?" the clerk asked me.

"I told him it was."

"An engagement ring?" he asked me further.

"Yes," I told him, getting a little bit peevish, "but I don't see what business it is of yours what I intend to do with the ring after I've paid for it out of my own private funds."

"Don't be offended," says the clerk in a conciliatory tone. "I was just going to suggest that if it was simply a present, with no engagement going with it, you go in for size rather than for quality, and when the girl comes in to inquire about its value we'll be $50 or $75 worth for you. But if it's an engagement ring I would advise you to get the best quality you can find, even if it does mean a smaller stone. Just as a matter of sentiment you'll want to know that it is right, and then if you ever get in hard luck you can pawn the good ring for two-thirds of its value."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Edward Everett.

Edward Everett was one of the most purely literary of all American orators. Among the more eminent scholars and statesmen of our land no one has ever been more deservedly honored for intellectual power, purity of character, public and private, and for clearness and perception of judgment than Everett. To the efforts of Edward Everett more than to any other one person is to be credited the raising of funds sufficient to purchase the home of Washington at Mount Vernon. He delivered a lecture on the character of that great man more than a hundred times and gave the proceeds to the Ladies Mount Vernon association. He personally placed over $100,000 in the treasury. It is probable that his oratory won for benevolent purposes at least $100,000.—St. Louis Republic.

Seeing Is Doubting.

"Seeing is believing, eh?" said an oculist. "Well, no saw was ever more absurd than that. You see a horse's head and a four barrel, and you believe the barrel is longer than the horse's head, don't you? Well, it isn't. The horse's head from the tips of its ears to the end of his nose is longer than the barrel by a considerable distance. Architects have to deceive the eye in order to make it appear that their buildings are symmetrical. They make walls lean in that they may appear vertical. They make windows wider at the top. They make columns thicker in the middle than at the summit or base. And the top lines of a building, in order to appear plumb to the silly eye of man, must be raised up quite a lot in the center."

"Seeing is believing, indeed!"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Apple Pie Without Apples.

A guest at an old fashioned home dinner was eulogizing apple pie and her hostess when another guest, who had been a California pioneer, recalled the "apple" pie given the children of 1852 to appease their homesick cravings when apples were a dollar a pound. It was made by breaking four soda crackers into an earthen bowl and pouring over them a pint of cold water rendered very tart by citric acid. When soft the crackers were laid on a pie plate on the undercrust. Over them were sifted two table-spoonfuls of light brown sugar and a little allspice and cinnamon. A pretty perforated top crust was added, and in a few minutes a perfect apple pie was taken from the oven to delight young and old.—New York Sun.

TWO CLEVER ROGUES

By F. A. MITCHEL.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

One morning a gentleman drove up to a New York hotel in a cab, a trunk plastered all over with foreign labels was carried in, and the gentleman following wrote his name on the register, "Edward Cheltenham, Sheffield, England."

"Had a pleasant voyage?" asked the clerk urbanely.

"Very. Regular mill pond trip."

"Front! Show the gentleman to 56." Mr. Cheltenham dined heartily, went to bed, arose betimes the next morning, breakfasted and strolled out of the hotel and down the street.

"What building is this?" he asked of one who was passing before an enormous structure.

"Criminal court."

Mr. Cheltenham stood with a best tating look on his face for a few moments, then entered and took a seat in the courtroom. Several minor cases were disposed of when the case of Stephen Dale was called. Dale was charged with burglary. He had not been caught in the act, but running away from the bank at the time the robbery was committed and within a few hundred feet of the bank door.

The hour of the arrest was midnight, and there was at the time no other person in the immediate neighborhood, so naturally the evidence against him, though circumstantial, was strong. In deed, the judge appeared impatient to dispose of the case, which could only be expected to result in a conviction. It was about to be submitted to the jury when the prisoner, catching sight of Mr. Cheltenham, seemed transported with astonishment and relief.

"Your honor," he exclaimed, "there is a man who can prove what I have claimed—that when the robbery was committed I was not in this country."

"What man?"

"The gentleman in the gray suit, with sandy whiskers. I ask that he be called to the witness stand."

"What's your name?" asked the judge of the person designated.

"Edward Cheltenham."

"Take the stand."

"I protest against being drawn into this case, of which I know nothing," said Mr. Cheltenham, evidently annoyed. "I'm a British citizen just over from England on business and never saw that man before in my life."

"Take the stand," repeated the judge.

The Britisher obeyed, muttering something about the "blasted country" and the rights of a British citizen.

"Your residence?" asked the judge.

"Sheffield, England."

"Occupation?"

"I am the traveling partner of a large cutlery manufactory."

Turning to the prisoner, the judge told him to state on what grounds he based his claim that the stranger could prove an alibi.

"The robbery was committed," said Dale, "on the 20th of June last. During that month I was a porter at Morley's hotel in Charing Cross, London. I carried the gentleman's luggage from his room down and out to a cab. I remember him especially because he gave me a very large tip—half a sovereign."

The judge asked the witness if he was in London and at Morley's at the time designated.

"I don't know," said Mr. Cheltenham. "I can't be expected to remember every place I visit. I travel eight months in the year. This man is an impostor and trying to use me."

"Do you keep any memoranda of places you visit?"

"Only an expense account."

"Have you your expense account covering that period with you?"

"I have my memorandum book of expenses at my hotel. I'll go and get it if you like, but I'm sure."

"Take him to his hotel," said the judge to a constable, "get the book and bring him and the book back."

Mr. Cheltenham, bristling with British indignation, was conducted to his hotel, unlocked his trunk, took out the memorandum book, of which the constable took charge, and the party returned to the courtroom.

"Tell the jury," said the judge, "if you have any entry made at Morley's hotel, London, on or about June 20."

The witness, still indignant, turned over the leaves of the book and at last stopped apparently disconcerted. Then he said, "I do find an entry pertaining to the case on June 21 covering expenses at Morley's and"—He stopped, with a look of astonishment.

"And what?"

"To porter, tip—half a sovereign."

Never was there greater surprise at a remarkable happening. Dale's vindication was complete. The judge gave a lecture on the care that should be taken in cases involving the liberty or life of the people, and the jury acquitted the accused without leaving their seats. Even Mr. Cheltenham was softened, though he declared that no such narrow escape of an innocent man could have occurred in England. The prisoner was released from custody, and Mr. Cheltenham was permitted to return to his hotel.

An hour later an officer of the court under pretext of carrying to Mr. Cheltenham his witness fee, but really to hear something of the Britisher, went to his hotel. Mr. Cheltenham immediately on his return from the courtroom had departed, bag and baggage. All the stations were telephoned to, and the same evening Cheltenham, alias Sparkles, alias Hunkey Jim, was arrested in company with Dale. The next day the two were summarily convicted of having robbed the bank and hustled off to the penitentiary to serve out a twenty-year sentence.

MEN OF ACTION.

Served as an illustration for the Professor's Lecture.

"How did you like Professor Newman?" one of the summer residents of Willowby asked Mr. Hiram Gale, "I saw his name on the list of lecturers in your last winter's course."

Mr. Gale stroked his chin reflectively.

"Well, some thought he was kind of stiff in his speech at first, but I tell you what happened:

"He got kind of worked up telling us what 'men-of-action' meant, what the government of these United States was doing in Alaska, the Philippines, and so on, and he stepped a mite too nigh the edge of the platform and lost his balance. But as he began to fall San-Nobart and Pick Willis, that were in the front seat, stood up and kneltched him, one by each arm, and brought him up standin'." He bulged out at the knees for a minute, but nothin' to speak of.

"An," says Pick to him, 'The last word you spoke was "omnivorous," an' mebbe before you mount again you'll give us some kind of a hint what it means."

"The professor looked from Pick to Sam and back to Pick again, kind of dazed, an' then he began to laugh.

"You let me mount," he says, 'an' I'll show you that the word I used is such you won't need a dictionary.' An' he kep' his promise."

"Yes, sir, he gave us a fine talk after that, an' he's comin' again. We had him to breakfast next mornin', and my wife said she wouldn't want to hear anybody talk more sensible or act more common an' friendly than he did. But there was a piece in the Sentinel next week referin' to Pick an' Sam as 'Willowby's men of action,' an' I reckon the name 'll stick to 'em long as they live."—Youth's Companion

The Main Thing.

"I must say," declared the manager after he had read the successful playwright's latest product, "that many of your lines seem very familiar to me. To be perfectly frank, in fact, you have taken them bodily from the writings of other men."

"Well, what of it? Nearly every one of 'em's good for a laugh, ain't it?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Meeting Trouble.

"What in the world are you crying about, Johnny?" asked the teacher kindly.

"You said that if the earth was flattened out the sea would be two miles deep all over it."

"That's nothing for you to feel bad over."

"But—but, teacher, I can't swim."

Richmond Castle.

Richmond castle was originally one of the strongest of Norman keeps. It was probably founded by Alan Rufus, one of the sons of the Duke of Brittany, who took a prominent part in the suppression of the Saxons. At a later age the castle passed into the possession of Edmund Tudor, who married Margaret Beaufort and became the father of Henry VII. Henry was born Earl of Richmond, and he bestowed the title upon the magnificent palace which when king of England he built upon the banks of the Thames. Thus the Richmond belored of cockneys has a comparatively modern origin. The curfew, by the way, is still rung from the tower of Richmond castle at 6 a. m. and 8 p. m., a custom "that has continued ever since the time of William the Conqueror."

College Foolishness Barred.

"John," said the farmer, "I've given you the best education the college had in the shop."

"Yes, sir."

"Never stood back fer expense?"

"Never."

"You speak six languages?"

"Perfectly."

"So far, so good. Now, listen. Don't swear at the mule in Greek. Don't use no Latin terms to him, an' fling no French his way. Use the Georgy dialect that you an' the mule was raised to. It's my opinion that the mule won't stand no college foolishness."—Atlanta Constitution.

Judge Hoar's Retort.

Judge Hoar and General Butler were opponents in a case of a new trial. General Butler quoted, "Eye for eye, skin for skin, tooth for tooth—yea, all that a man hath—will he give for his life."

To which Judge Hoar replied, "Yea, the devil quoted that once before in a motion for a new trial."

There is no tyrant like custom and no freedom where its edicts are not resisted.—Borvee.

LUTHERANS BEAT

WASHINGTON AVE.

PRESBYTERIANS

Take Advantage of Errors to

Roll Up Big Score on
Mitchell's Followers

Piling up as many errors as the Lutherans did scores, the Washington Avenue Presbyterian team was treated to a severe beating Wednesday evening, when they met the Lutherans in what was scheduled to be a good exhibition. The Lutherans negotiated and were presented with scores until in their column 11 showed 'All the Washington Avenues could get was four.

The first and fourth innings were not bad, but the others—may the saints preserve us. In the second the Lutherans got around twice on two errors a single and a double. The following session five errors, two singles, three pilfered bases and two bases on balls meant four runs. Three runs came in in the fifth. A base on balls a home and a single with three errors to boot were responsible for the same. Two more men finished the circuit in the sixth on three hits, one a three base, a couple of stolen bases and an error.

The Washington Avenues scored three in the fifth inning when they gathered three singles, and two bases on balls. They added one in the final session on two hits, and a stolen base.

Monster 150 Feet

Long Captured

A Specimen Rarely Seen in the United States, the Monster "Bartholopha-lus Latus" or Fish Tape Worm Now Is on Exhibition at the Quaker Doctor's, the Quaker Herbs removed it from Mr. Tony Nhis, Employed at American Tin Plate Mills in Monessen.

During the Quaker Doctor's shows and lectures here he spoke of the monster tape worms that are found in people of northern Europe that frequently reach the enormous length of 300 feet, some of his hearers naturally scoffed at the idea, claiming that as a man has only 30 feet of bowels it would be impossible for a monster of this size to inhabit the intestines. Many such parasites have been found however, particularly after the patient had died, when the post mortem was made on the body to learn the cause of the death, as is now well known here the Quaker Doctor's herbs brought many tape worms from Charleroi people and were put on exhibition during his lectures; it however remained for Monessen to furnish the sensation and the largest and only specimen that the Quaker Doctor has ever seen in this country namely, one of the monsters spoken of above. It is full 150 feet long and the most remarkable part of this wonderful work is that Mr. Nhis did not lose a meal, was not sick and lost no time from his work; he says one dose of the Quaker Doctor's herbs is all he took and in a few hours was relieved of the monster that for years had at different times caused him untold agony; the Quaker Doctor's office on McKean avenue is now crowded daily with patients wanting to see him for examination and advice; many of these of course are chronic cases for which there is no permanent cure and they are told so, while others are quickly informed that there is help and a cure for them by following his instructions.

LOCAL MENTION

Mrs. Leatha Taylor is visiting friends today in Donora.

Frank Arrison has returned from a visit in Lansing, Mich., with relatives and friends.

Mrs. William Vance of near Carmichaels, Greene county, is spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reeves of Fallowfield avenue.

Henry Lowstutter, the son of J. C. Lowstutter is able to be about after suffering for weeks from blood poisoning.

Misses Erma Holyfield and Clara Cooper went to Canonsburg this morning to represent the Baptist Sunday school at the county Sunday school convention.

Calvin Higgins has returned from a week's visit in Cleveland, Ohio, with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Elijah Dainty and Mrs. J. K. Mitchell are representing the Christian Sunday school at the annual county Sunday school convention which opened today at Canonsburg. Rev. V. G. Hostetter, the pastor of the church is also present.

J. M. Fleming's garden hose is guaranteed for two years. 254tf

Mrs. Christ Cribbs of Greensburg is visiting at the homes of her sisters, Mrs. C. B. Copeland and Mrs. W. H. Calvert.

Eugene Fau attended the commencement exercises yesterday at St. Joseph's academy, of Greensburg, and returned with his daughter, Miss Adeline Fau, who has been attending there for the past term.

D. C. Lindsay, formerly of Charleroi, who is now employed in Pittsburgh, was a visitor here today with friends. Zeta Minnie Nickeson, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Nickeson, is ill with rheumatic fever.

BASEBALL BINGLES

Prof. J. T. Daniel umpired behind the plate again Wednesday night. With the league breast protector he makes a good preserver of the baseball peace.

Eddie Butz was on second for the Lutherans Wednesday evening, and covered the bag efficiently.

Friend Joe Mason retired to the outfield—clear to right—to give the youngsters a chance to show their ability in the infield.

The chief prerogative of the Washington Avenues seemed to be the making of errors.

The Lutherans are tied with the Episcopalians for first position. And while remarking is good, it might be remarked that the Catholics and Baptists are not so far behind.

Joe Stech was back in the game and featured his presence by getting three scores and two hits. He's some short-stop.

Wertz lost one ball over the fence, in the first inning through a foul. Then he struck out.

Stroud wasn't hit so hard but oh, the work of his teammates.

Winnie Wertz and Heaver Miller were the only Lutherans to get through the game without a hit.

The Washington Avenues had rather a matched an aggregation. Possibly by tonight they will put up a real article of baseball.

Fleming the new catcher of the Lutherans, looks rather classy.

Yonno De Prune de Riddle is the name of a lad who comes out regular with the Baptists merely to coach. At least that's a part of his cognomen and he may have more hidden away. He has a voice that sounds like a young fog-horn.
